Tamra Peters will provide a presentation to the Local Task Force on "Resilient Neighborhoods."

Larkspur:
Dan Schwarz

Following is an excerpt from the www.resilientneighborhoods.org website that describes the program:

Mill Valley:
Jim McCann

Most of us don't realize the far-reaching impact of our thousands of small daily decisions--on our community and our planet. But we honestly want to do the "right thing." Resilient Neighborhoods gives you the information to make positive choices, and supports you in learning new habits and responsible stewardship.

Novato:
Michael Frank

Ross:
Rob Braulik

San Anselmo:
Debbie Stutsman

The Resilient Neighborhoods Program helps you do your part to address climate change by reducing your own carbon emissions and we help you build resilience in your community by being prepared for emergencies or disruptions--getting to know neighbors who may be the only people there to help each other, and supporting local business and agriculture who may sustain us when outside supplies are unavailable.
